Personal Profile

I am interested in how humans experience the auditory world and the way in which such representations impact human behaviour and culture. To explore this, my research combines methods from different disciplines using massive online experiments, including high-resolution perceptual paradigms, cultural transmission chains in rhythm and singing modalities, cross-cultural research, and network science. Above all, I am curious, ambitious, and a skilled and rigorous data analyst and scientist, both in Python and R. I really value working collaboratively in teams of people from different backgrounds and interests.

Education and research

2020- Postdoctoral researcher

Computational Auditory Perception Group, Max Planck Institute for Empirical Aesthetics (Germany), supervised by Dr Nori Jacoby

- Researching fundamental components of auditory perception, including rhythm and melody.
- Developing new psychological paradigms and methods, including massive online perceptual experiments, and iterated learning paradigms in rhythm and singing modalities.
- Developing new testing software for online behavioural experiments (REPP, PsyNet).
- Articles published in Nature Human Behaviour, Behavioural Research Methods, and NeurIPS (the foremost international conference in machine learning and neuroscience).

2018-

Research and data science consultant

SoundOUT – Sonic Testing (UK); DLMDD – Sonic Branding Agency (UK)

- Amazon (2020-2021): testing the effectiveness of sonic logos for Amazon using massive online experiments.
- Aldi (2019-2020): finding a new audio logo identity for Aldi UK in a large-scale behavioural study.

SoundOUT – Sonic Testing (UK)

- SONOS - Home Sound Systems (2019-2020): Assessing the impact of audio systems on the music listening experience.

iV Audio branding (US)

- Cadbury Chocolate (2018-2019): Examining crossmodally congruent relationships between sound, flavour, and mood.

2017-2020 PhD in Psychology, Summa Cum Laude

Audio Communication Group, Technische Universität Berlin (Germany), supervised by Prof Dr Stefan Weinzierl and Prof Dr Daniel Müllensiefen

- Applied insights from behavioural economics to study musical behaviour, including aesthetic preferences, listening behaviour, and music decisions in the context of branding and advertising.
- Collaborated with international researchers in various scientific contributions (e.g., Prof Dr Adrian North, Curtin University, Australia; Prof Alexander Lamont, Keele University, UK; Steve Keller, Sonic Strategy Director in Pandora, US).
- Publications in the Quarterly Journal of Experimental Economics, Journal of Behavioural Decision Making, Memory, Psychology of Aesthetics, Creativity, and the Arts, Journal of Advertising Research, and International Journal of Advertising.

2014-15

MSc in Music, Mind & Brain

Psychology Department, Goldsmiths, University of London, (UK), supervised by Prof Dr Daniel Müllensiefen

- Focus on both the biological and cognitive aspects of musical behaviour.
- Master project examining the role of context on music preferences, published in Music Perception.

2009-13

BA in Psychology

Univeristy Rovira i Virgili (Spain)

- Focus on cognitive science, research methods, and psycholinguistics.
- BA project examining the processing of emotional words in bilingual speakers, published in Second Language Research.

Teaching and supervising

- 2021 Academic mentor
ICMPC-ESCOM mentoring scheme, funded by the British Academy
- One to one mentoring for academics from developing countries, providing guidance and support to produce a journal article for publication.
- 2019 Lecturer in Psychology
Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin (Germany)
- Taught research methods and statistics using R, both at the BA and master level.
 - Wrote and marked weekly assignments and final exams.
- 2015- Co-supervisor of MSc projects
MSc in Audio Communication and Technology, Technische Universität Berlin (Germany)
- Melanie Schulz (2020-2021)
 - Miguel Reyes (2020-2021)
 - Till Noé (2019-2020)
- Msc in, Mind & Brain, Goldsmiths, University of London (UK)*
- Austin Coates (2020-2021)
 - Pattera Sutanthavibul (2019-2020)
 - Thomas Baker (2018-2019)
 - Kerry Schofield (2017-2018)
 - Heather Thueringer (2017-2018)
 - Emily Beth Hill (2017-2018)
 - Thomas Baker (2016-2017)
 - Björn Thorleifsson (2015-2016)
- 2015-17 Special Needs Teacher
The Garden School (UK)
- Taught autistic students with complex learning disabilities, working collaboratively with parents and professionals.
 - Planned and delivered music lessons.

Funding

2017-2020 PhD scholarship

Funded by the Studienstiftung des Deutschen Volkes (Germany)

- 3-year doctoral scholarship granted to highly qualified and socially committed researchers, including health insurance and travel expenses.

2019 SEMPRES Conference Award

Funded by the Society for Education, Music, and Psychology Research

- Travel grant to attend the conference, "Again & Again: Musical Repetition in Aesthetics, Analysis, and Experience".

2018 DGM Conference Award

Funded by the German Society for Music Psychology

- Travel grant to attend the 2018 DGM Conference, Giessen (Germany).

2018 SEMPRES Conference Award

Funded by the Society for Education, Music, and Psychology Research

- Travel grant to attend the 15th International Conference on Music Perception and Cognition (ICMPC) and 10th Conference of the European Society for the Cognitive Sciences of Music (ESCOM), Graz Austria

2017 SEMPRES Conference Award

Funded by the Society for Education, Music, and Psychology Research

- Travel grant to attend the 9th Conference of the European Society for the Cognitive Sciences of Music (ESCOM), Ghent (Belgium).

Software

Skilled in R and Python. I also have some experience with JavaScript, HTML/CSS, and MATLAB.

I am a co-developer of the following open-source software packages:

REPP	A package for measuring sensorimotor synchronisation in laboratory and online experiments (Python)
PsyNet	A platform to build and run next-generation online psychological experiments (Python, JS, HTML)

Peer review

I have reviewed articles for the journals of Psychology & Marketing, Psychology of Aesthetics, Creativity, and the Arts, Music Perception, Psychology of Music, POETICS, Music Education Research, Empirical Musicology Review, and Journal of Media Business Studies. I have also reviewed submissions for the 2017 and 2018 conference of the International Society for Music Information Retrieval (ISMIR), and the 2021 International Conference of Students of Systematic Musicology.
